Symposium of GD Society for Dermopharmacy on “Dermatotoxicological and other Safety Testing Methods without Animals – Status November 2013“, held in Berlin on November 28, 2013

Ladies and Gentlemen:

During the last decade a variety of innovative dermatotoxicological and other safety testing methods without animals have been developed. These methods were in particular developed to safeguard new cosmetics under the EU legislation. More recently, new methods for safety testing use are often developed by networks of investigators belonging to institutions of various types ranging from university institutes to research organizations and industrial companies.

Against this background it looks rewarding to provide a platform for the exchange of ideas for experts who cover all necessary aspects. Therefore it is our pleasure to inform you that GD has been successful in organizing a status meeting for experts on 28th November 2013 in Berlin. This scientific meeting will be organized in honor of Prof. Dr. med. Horst Spielmann, Berlin, member of the managing board of GD from 1998 to 2013.

The symposium primarily wants to attract research and development-oriented specialists from university institutes and other research organizations as well as from pharmaceutical and cosmetic companies. Enclosed do find the preliminary program and general remarks. Please do register at your earliest convenience. In the context you can use the fax registration form enclosed. Please do not overlook that there are different prices for members of GD and non-members as well as for early and late registration.

We hope that we can welcome you at the meeting in Berlin and remain with kind regards.

Dr. Joachim Kresken
Chairman of the Society for Dermopharmacy

Prof. Dr. med. Ellen Fritsche
Scientific Chair of the Symposium
